Hosting Partner Concept for Joint Training Courses

Hosting Partner Concept

Joint Aviation Training Courses

In addition to its well over 70 annual public training courses, airsight offers all regular course topics and further subjects as in-company training sessions tailored to your needs. These sessions take place at the clients' premises or dedicated virtual classrooms and offer a cost-effective training solution for training several team members at once.

To strengthen this concept further, we are now offering a new hosting partner concept which supports airports from the same region to come together and benefit from joint training sessions.

As a hosting partner, you host one or several of our public courses at your premises and benefit from privileged rates for your training participants. airsight will provide the expert trainer as well as support in your local language.

Become a Hosting Partner

airsight and its Hosting Partner closely cooperate.

Our hosting partners ensure a minimum number of participants for each course and host the session at their premises (e.g. in airport meeting rooms).

airsight provides the expert trainer and takes care of the overall organization and booking administration.

Both partners manage the training course content and the advertising of the events together.
